MARGARET RIVER
CABERNET SAUVIGNON
2013

91 points—James Halliday

James Halliday Australian Wine Companion 2015 Edition

“An attractive drink-soon style that is positively juicy, not with the often autocratic face of cabernet; cassis is the order of the day, supported by ripe tannins”. Drink to 2016.

The Wine Front [22nd October 2014]

“Juicy dark cherry, chocolate, aniseed and gum leaf perfume. Medium bodied, bright dark fruit flavour - all cherries and chocolate - with regional dried herb to bring it back into line. Good clip of tannin. Not the deepest, but altogether pleasant and good to drink. Like this, super value”.

The Age Wine Guide [14th April 2015]

“This has a classic cabernet cedar and raspberry bouquet. It’s intense, and firm on the palate”.

“This Margaret River Cabernet sits in the cheaper price range - but don’t be fooled. It’s big on value and over delivers for the price. It’s soft, it’s juicy, full of flavour, and it’s made for immediate drinking. Medium bodied, the dark plum and black cherry flavours come with a dried herb complexity. But at the core, this is all about good, juicy, easy drinking”.
